Pole Testing Continues

Members may have noticed workers in the area examining our utility poles. From time to time, our poles require a checkup to ensure that we can continue providing exceptional service. Pioneer Electric contracts this job to Osмосe Utility Services each year.

Maintenance and restoration are essential to maintaining the quality of our utility poles. By having our utility poles inspected annually, Pioneer Electric can identify poles that may have decay or other defects that require monitoring. Poles are also tested to estimate their remaining strength to assess if they must be replaced.

Pioneer Electric serves members across 10 counties in southwest Kansas, with over 87,000 poles. Testing is conducted by digging an 18-inch hole around the pole to check for any issues
